Project :1 - INCOME TAX AND TAXABILITY OF MR.X

Mr. x is doing business and earn some income, you are advised to assess his income and taxability the same according to the income tax act 1961.

- Claim the expenses in relation to his business.
- Validate the declared sales revenue shown in ITR with GST returns.
- Calculate the depreciation for assets from the date of acquisition.
- Validate the cash transaction within the limit.
- Adjust the previous year's losses while filing.
- File the expenditure for specified business and speculative transactions.

Solution:

- Claiming expenses related to business:

Mr. X is allowed to deduct business-related expenses from his taxable income. These expenses must be incurred wholly and exclusively for the benefit of his business. Rent, salaries, depreciation of assets, maintenance and repairs, professional and legal fees, and interest on loans taken for business purposes are a few examples of deductible expenses.

- Validating sales revenue in ITR with GST returns:

Mr. X must reconcile the sales revenue shown in his Income Tax Return (ITR) with the sales revenue reported in his Goods and Services Tax (GST) returns. Before filing the ITR, any discrepancies between the two must be resolved and corrected.

- Calculating depreciation for assets:

Depreciation is a deduction for wear and tear on assets used in business. The method of calculation and the rate of depreciation depends on the type of asset. Mr X can claim depreciation from the date of acquisition of the asset. A schedule of depreciation rates for different assets is outlined in the Income Tax Act 1961.

- Validating cash transactions within the limit:

Cash transactions are subject to limits under the Income Tax Act. Any cash transactions exceeding the prescribed limits must be reported in the ITR. Mr X must ensure that all cash transactions are within the prescribed limits and are supported by proper documentation. [Section 269 of the Income Tax Act limits cash transactions.]

- Adjusting previous year's losses:

If Mr X has incurred losses in the previous year, he can set off them against his current year's income. Losses can be carried forward for a specified period and set off against future profits. In turn, his taxable income and tax liability will be reduced. [Losses under The Income Tax Act, 1961 are treated and carried forward under Sections 70 to 80.]

- Filing expenditure for specified business and speculative transactions:

In the ITR, expenditures related to specified business and speculative transactions must be separately reported. Construction, trading, and manufacturing are examples of Specified businesses. Speculative transactions include transactions in shares, commodities, and derivatives. [Section 35AD defines specified businesses and certain deductions are available to them only.]

PROJECT-2: TAXABLE INCOME AND COMPLAANCE OF MR.Y

Mr. Y has the following Incomes for the AY 21-22 Sale of an Immovable property for a value of Rs.1 Crore Sold the shares which were held in Y Ltd for a period of 5 Years Sold the Shares held in ABC Ltd within a year

ANSWER:

Based on the given information, Mr. Y has three sources of income:

1. Sale of an immovable property for a value of Rs.1 crore
2. Sale of shares held in Y Ltd for a period of 5 years
3. Sale of shares held in ABC Ltd within a year

Now, let's discuss the tax implications of each of these sources of income:

1. Sale of Immovable Property:

As per Section 2(14) of the Income Tax Act, 1961, an immovable property includes land, buildings, and any rights attached to them. If Mr. Y has held the immovable property for more than 2 years, it will be considered a long-term capital asset, and any gains arising from its sale will be taxed as long-term capital gains (LTCG).

As per the current tax laws, the LTCG arising from the sale of an immovable property is taxed at a flat rate of 20%. However, if Mr. Y invests the sale proceeds in a new residential property within the prescribed time frame under Section 54 of the Income Tax Act, he can claim a deduction and reduce his tax liability.

2. Sale of shares held in Y Ltd for a period of 5 years:

If Mr. Y has held the shares of Y Ltd for more than 1 year, they will be considered a long-term capital asset, and any gains arising from their sale will be taxed as LTCG.

As per the current tax laws, the LTCG arising from the sale of shares is taxed at a flat rate of 10% if the gains exceed Rs.1 lakh in a financial year.

3. Sale of Shares held in ABC Ltd within a year:

If Mr. Y has held the shares of ABC Ltd for less than 1 year, they will be considered a short-term capital asset, and any gains arising from their sale will be taxed as short-term capital gains (STCG).

As per the current tax laws, the STCG arising from the sale of shares is taxed at the applicable income tax slab rate of the individual.

It is important to note that Mr. Y may also be eligible to claim certain deductions and exemptions under the Income Tax Act based on his income and investments made during the year. He should consult a tax professional to determine the exact tax Implications of his income and take necessary steps to reduce his tax liability.

PROJECT-3 -WORKS CONTRACT AND ITC AVAILABILITY OF MR.N

3.Mr.N Who is doing construction Business, Is appointing you as a GST consultant for his entity while filing GST. Examine the works contract as per GST law, Adjust the availability of products under the work contract

Answer :

Under GST law, works contract is defined as a contract for building, construction, fabrication, completion, erection, installation, fitting out, improvement, modification, repair, maintenance, renovation, alteration or commissioning of any immovable property.

When it comes to works contract, GST is levied on the value of the entire contract, including the value of goods and services supplied. However, the value of goods supplied under the works contract can be adjusted for the purpose of calculating GST liability.

The value of goods supplied under the works contract can be determined in one of the following ways:

1. Percentage of total contract value:

- In this method, a percentage of the total contract value is assumed to be the value of goods supplied .
- The percentage is based on the nature of the contract, such as whether it is a composite contract or a mixed contract.

2. Actual value of goods:

- In this method, the actual value of goods supplied under the contract is determined by taking into account the cost of the goods, transportation charges, installation charges, and any other charges incurred in the supply of the goods.
- Once the value of goods supplied under the works contract has been determined, it can be adjusted for the purpose of calculating GST liability. The adjustment can be made by deducting the value of goods supplied from the total contract value.

For example:

If the total contract value is Rs. 1,00,000 and the value of goods supplied is Rs. 30,000, then the GST liability will be calculated on balance amount

PROJECT-3 -WORKS CONTRACT AND ITC AVAILABILITY OF MR.N

Rs. 70,000 It is important to note that the adjustment of the value of goods supplied under the works contract is only allowed if the supplier provide sufficient evidence to support the value of the goods supplied. Therefore, it is important for Mr. N's construction business to maintain proper records and documentation to substantiate the value of goods supplied under works contract.

As a GST consultant for Mr. N's construction business, can provide the following insights regarding works contract under GST law and the availability of Input Tax Credit (ITC) for products used in the works contract:

1. Works contract: Under GST law :

- works contract is defined as a contract for building, construction fabrication, completion, erection, installation, fitting out, improvement, modification, repair, maintenance, renovation, alteration, or commissioning of any immovable property.

2 .GST rate: The GST rate for works contract services is 18% (9% CGST and 9% SGST).

- However, if the works contract includes the supply of both goods and services, the applicable GST rate would depend on the value of goods and services supplied. If the value of goods is GST construction works supplied.
- If the value of goods is more than 70% of the total contract value, then the GST rate applicable for goods will apply to the entire contract value. If the value of goods is less than 70%, then the GST rate applicable for services will apply to the entire contract value.

3. Input Tax Credit (ITC):

Mr. N can claim ITC on goods and services used for the works contract However, ITC is not available for certain goods and services such as motor vehicles, food and beverages, and works contract services used for construction of any immovable property.

4. ITC availability:

The ITC available for products used in the works contract would depend on whether they are

PROJECT-3 -WORKS CONTRACT AND ITC AVAILABILITY OF MR.N

- Capital goods
- Input goods

5. Sum assumed:

I'm not sure what is meant by "sum assumed." If you could provide more context, I would be happy to provide further insights.

PAYMENT OF RCM AND GST FILE RETURNS

RCM for Goods Transport

If your friend is the owner of a goods transport agency, and He/She provides transportation services to a client. Since the reverse charge is applicable on goods transportation services, the client (recipient) must pay the reverse charge under Section 9(3) of CGST of RCM and also for an unregistered person. How will you pay the RCM and file the GST returns.

Solution:

- ❖ As an AI language model, I cannot have friends, but I can guide you on the process of paying RCM and filing GST returns for goods transportation services.
- ❖ To pay the reverse charge, the recipient of the service (your friend's client) must first obtain a GSTIN, if they haven't already. The recipient must then calculate the amount of GST payable under reverse charge mechanism (RCM) and pay it to the government using the GST portal.
- ❖ To file GST returns for the goods transportation service, the recipient must first file GSTR-1 and GSTR-2 forms. In GSTR-1, the recipient must provide details of all outward supplies made during the month, including the details of the goods transportation service received from your friend's agency.
- ❖ In GSTR-2, the recipient must provide details of all inward supplies received during the month, including the details of the goods transportation service received from your friend's agency. The recipient must also declare the amount of GST paid under RCM in GSTR-2.
- ❖ Once both GSTR-1 and GSTR-2 are filed, the recipient must verify the details and submit GSTR-3, which is the monthly return. This return will contain the final amount of GST payable or refundable, based on the inputs provided in GSTR-1 and GSTR-2.
- ❖ It is advisable for your friend's client to consult a GST practitioner or a Chartered Accountant for any further assistance on paying RCM and filing GST returns.

RCM Liability for Transportation

Step: 2 Choose a Transport company and determine the liability for RCM: The next step is to determine the liability for RCM. Since the client is the recipient of the transportation services, they are liable to pay the tax under RCM. If the client is registered under GST, they can claim input tax credit for the tax paid under RCM. If the client is unregistered, they need to pay the tax and cannot claim input tax credit.

Solution:

- ❖ Let's take the example of a transportation company called XYZ Logistics. As per the GST laws in India, if XYZ Logistics provides any transportation services to a registered person (client), then the liability to pay tax under RCM falls on the client.
- ❖ Therefore, if XYZ Logistics provides transportation services to a registered client, the client will be liable to pay tax under RCM. The tax rate applicable to transportation services is 5% (CGST 2.5% + SGST 2.5%).
- ❖ If the client is registered under GST, they can claim input tax credit for the tax paid under RCM. Input tax credit means the tax paid on inputs (goods or services used for business) can be used to reduce the output tax liability (tax charged on sales).
- ❖ If the client is unregistered, they need to pay the tax under RCM and cannot claim input tax credit.
- ❖ In summary, the liability for RCM for transportation services provided by XYZ Logistics falls on the registered client, who can claim input tax credit for the tax paid under RCM. If the client is unregistered, they need to pay the tax and cannot claim input tax credit.

GST Returns and RCM.

Step : 3 GST returns and pay tax: The final step is to file GST returns and pay tax under RCM. The client needs to file GSTR-3B and include the tax paid under RCM in the relevant fields. They can also claim input tax credit if they are registered. The owner of the transport agency needs to issue a tax invoice to the client showing the tax charged and paid under RCM.

Solution:

- ❖ As an AI language model, I am not able to file GST returns and pay taxes. However, I can provide you with some general information on the Reverse Charge Mechanism (RCM) under GST in India.

- ❖ Under RCM, the recipient of goods or services is required to pay the GST instead of the supplier. This mechanism is applicable in certain cases such as when the supplier is an unregistered dealer or when the supplier is a registered dealer but the value of the supply exceeds a specified limit.
- ❖ To file GST returns under RCM, the client needs to file GSTR-3B and include the tax paid under RCM in the relevant fields. They can also claim input tax credit if they are registered. The owner of the transport agency needs to issue a tax invoice to the client showing the tax charged and paid under RCM.
- ❖ It is important to note that GST returns must be filed regularly, usually on a monthly basis, and the payment of tax must be made on time to avoid penalties and interest charges. It is advisable to consult a qualified tax professional for specific advice on GST compliance and RCM requirements.

ITR Computation of Total Income

MR.F has five source of income for the financial year 21-22, He is employed at ABC company where he is earning income . Rental income. He has kept a provisional store and he also acts as a consultant for 3 companies. Recently he sold his old residential property he has made some deposits in bank for which he has earned some interest . You should be able to file ITR regarding the scope of computation of total income in direct taxation.

Answer:

As Mr. F has multiple sources of income, he needs to calculate his total income for the financial year 2021-22 to file his income tax return (ITR). The scope of computation of total income in direct taxation includes the following sources of income:

Income from salary:

Mr. F's salary income from his employment with ABC company is the first source of income. This income will be calculated after deducting any allowable deductions like standard deduction, professional tax, and other applicable allowances.

Income from house property:

Mr. F's rental income from the property he owns will be considered as his second source of income. He will be allowed to claim deductions like property taxes, interest on home loans, and other allowable expenses to calculate his taxable rental income.

Income from business/profession:

Mr. F's income from his provisional store and consultancy services will be considered as his third source of income. He will be allowed to claim deductions for business expenses like rent, salaries, office expenses, and other allowable expenses to calculate his taxable income.

Capital gains:

Mr. F's income from the sale of his residential property will be considered as his fourth source of income. The gain from the sale of the property will be calculated after deducting the indexed cost of acquisition and improvement expenses.

Income from other sources:

Mr. F's interest income from bank deposits will be considered as his fifth source of income. This income will be added to his total income after deducting any applicable deductions like TDS, etc.

Once all the above sources of income have been calculated and deductions have been claimed, the total income of Mr. F will be computed, and the applicable income tax will be calculated based on his income tax slab. Finally, he can file his ITR with the appropriate income tax department by providing all the necessary details of his income and taxes paid during the financial year.

Example:

MR.F has five source of income for the financial year 21-22, He is employed at ABC company where he is earning income . Rental income. He has kept a provisional store and he also acts as a consultant for 3 companies. Recently he sold his old residential property he has made some deposits in bank for which he has earned some interest . You should be able to file ITR regarding the scope of computation of total income in direct taxation. You should assume the amount and find the solution:

As per the given information, Mr. F has five sources of income for the financial year 2021-22:

Income from employment at ABC Company: Let's assume Mr. F's annual salary from ABC Company is ₹10,00,000.

Rental Income: Let's assume Mr. F owns a property and earns ₹2,00,000 per annum as rental income.

Income from Provisional Store: Let's assume Mr. F earns ₹1,50,000 per annum from his provisional store.

Income from Consultancy: Let's assume Mr. F earns ₹4,00,000 per annum from his consultancy work.

Interest Income: Let's assume Mr. F earned ₹50,000 as interest income from his bank deposits.

To calculate Mr. F's total income for the financial year 2021-22, we need to add all these incomes. So, the total income of Mr. F for the financial year 2021-22 would be:

Total Income = Income from Employment + Rental Income + Income from Provisional Store + Income from Consultancy + Interest Income

Total Income = ₹10,00,000 + ₹2,00,000 + ₹1,50,000 + ₹4,00,000 + ₹50,000 = ₹17,00,000

Therefore, Mr. F's total income for the financial year 2021-22 is ₹17,00,000. He needs to file his Income Tax Return (ITR) based on this total income and pay taxes as per the tax slab applicable to him.

SOLUTION:

TAX AND LAWS JUDGEMENTS

As an AI language model, I cannot file any tax returns or provide any legal advice or services. However, I can provide you with some landmark judgments of the Supreme Court under the Direct Tax Department and their impact on taxpayers.

1.Vodafone International Holdings BV vs. Union of India (2012)

- Facts: Vodafone acquired Hutchinson's stake in an Indian company for $11.2 billion, which included indirect ownership of an Indian telecom operator. The Indian tax department sought to tax the transaction, citing that the underlying asset was located in India.
- Issue: Whether the Indian tax department had the jurisdiction to tax an offshore transaction.
- Judgement: The Supreme Court ruled in favor of Vodafone, holding that the Indian tax department did not have the jurisdiction to tax the offshore transaction.
- Impact: The ruling provided clarity on the taxability of offshore transactions and set a precedent for future cases.

2. McDowell and Co. Ltd. Vs. Commercial Tax Officer (1985)

- Facts: McDowell and Co. Ltd. Claimed certain expenses as tax deductions, which were not related to its business operations.

- Issue: Whether expenses incurred for non-business purposes can be claimed as tax deductions.
- Judgement: The Supreme Court held that expenses incurred for non-business purposes cannot be claimed as tax deductions.
- Impact: The ruling clarified the scope of tax deductions and prevented taxpayers from claiming personal expenses as business expenses.

3. CIT vs. B.C. Srinivasa Setty (1981)

- Facts: B.C. Srinivasa Setty claimed a deduction for an amount he had not paid to his creditors.
- Issue: Whether a taxpayer can claim a deduction for an amount that he has not paid.
- Judgement: The Supreme Court held that a taxpayer can claim a deduction only for the amount that he has actually paid.
- Impact: The ruling established the principle of actual payment and prevented taxpayers from claiming tax deductions for amounts that they had not paid.

4. Commissioner of Income Tax vs. Dr. V. P. Gopinathan Nair (1997)

- Facts: Dr. V. P. Gopinathan Nair received a gift from his father, which he did not disclose in his tax return.
- Issue: Whether a gift received by a taxpayer is taxable.
- Judgement: The Supreme Court held that a gift received by a taxpayer is not taxable, and therefore, Dr. V. P. Gopinathan Nair was not liable to pay tax on the gift received from his father.
- Impact: The ruling clarified the taxability of gifts and prevented the taxation of gifts received by taxpayers.

5. Navnitlal C. Jhaveri vs. K.K. Sen (1965)

- Facts: Navnitlal C. Jhaveri sold shares and claimed that the transaction was not taxable as it was a capital receipt.

- Issue: Whether the sale of shares is taxable as a capital receipt or a revenue receipt.
- Judgement: The Supreme Court held that the sale of shares can be taxable as either a capital receipt or a revenue receipt, depending on the nature of the transaction.
- Impact: The ruling established the principles of capital receipt and revenue receipt and provided clarity on the taxability of the sale of shares.

CONCLUSION:

These are just a few landmark judgments of the Supreme Court, and there are many more that have had an impact on the Direct Tax Department and taxpayers. It is always advisable to consult a tax expert or a legal professional for specific advice related to tax laws and regulations.

Project :7 - TAXABILITY DETERMINATION OF Mr.s

Mr.S an individual and Indian Citizen living Abroad (Dubai) a tax haven, Since the year 2005 and never come to India for a single then he has earned the following Incomes during the Previous Year Income accrued and arisen in Dubai not Taxable - 20,00,000 Income accrued and arisen in India -5,00,000 Income deemed to be accrued and arisen in India - 5,00,000 Income arising in Dubai from a profession set up in India - 10,00,000 Please help him in deriving the residential status of the Assesses Mr.N is paying a huge amount of Tax Every Year, He wants to have an overall view of Deductions available under Income tax from Gross total Income , You should be able to consider all the other deductions available under Chapter VI-A You are advised to Report the Impact of Tax Evasion happening in India Differences between Tax Evasion and Tax Planning

Solution:

a)In the case of Mr.S

RESIDENTIAL STATUS OF Mr.S

To determine Mr. S's residential status, he must satisfies any of the conditions residential status mentioned in Section 6 of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Since he has not visited India during the previous year, he does not satisfies any of the conditions of residential status as mentioned below:-

- ✚ His stay in India for not less than 182 days or more in the previous year.
(or)
- ✚ His stay in India for not less than 60 days or more in the previous year and 365 days or more in the four years preceding the relevant previous years.

In this case, Mr. S will be considered a non-resident for income tax purposes.

TAXABLE INCOMES OF Mr.S

Not taxable income :

- Income accrued and arisen in Dubai, not taxable - Rs. 20,00,000

Taxable income :

- Income accrued and arisen in India - Rs. 5,00,000
- Income deemed to be accrued and arisen in India - Rs. 5,00,000
- Income arising in Dubai from a profession set up in India - Rs. 10,00,000

There for income arise, accrued, deemed and related to India are taxable incomes.

b)In the case of Mr.N

GROSS TOTAL INCOME OF Mr.N

❖ A Gross Total Income is considered as the total of five heads of incomes.

Five heads of Incomes:

1. Gross Salary Income: Rs. 5,00,000
2. Income from House Property: Nil
3. Income from Business or Profession: Nil
4. Income from Capital Gains: Nil
5. Income from Other Sources: Rs. 5,00,000

Gross Total Income of Mr.N is Rs. 10,00,000

DEDUCTIONS AVAILABILITY

❖ Mr.N is eligible for the following deductions under Chapter VI-A:

- Section 80C :-
Deduction for investment in certain instruments - Rs. 1,50,000
- Section 80D :-
Deduction for payment of health insurance premium - Rs. 25,000
- Section 80E :-
Deduction for payment of interest on education loan - Rs. 50,000
- Section 80G :-
Deduction for donation made to certain charitable organizations - Rs. 10,000
- Section 80TTA :-
Deduction for interest income from savings bank account - Rs. 10,000

The total deductions under Chapter VI-A for Mr. N amount to Rs. 2,45,000.

TAXABLE INCOME OF Mr.N

❖ Total taxable income of Mr.N after claiming the available deductions :-

 Taxable Income = Gross Total Income _ Deductions under chapter VI-A

Gross Total Income	= Rs.10,00,000
Less: Deductions under chapter VI-A	= Rs. 2,45,000
Taxable Income	=Rs. 7,55,000

Therefore, Mr. N's taxable income after claiming all the deductions under Chapter VI-A for the previous year is Rs. 7,55,000.

Note: The amounts above mentioned are assumed values.

IMPACT OF TAX EVASION IN INDIA

- Reduced government revenue: Tax evasion results in reduced tax revenue for the government, which hinders the government's ability to provide public services such as healthcare, education, infrastructure, and social welfare.
- Widening of the tax gap: Tax evasion widens the gap between the actual taxes due and the taxes collected, which can result in a loss of public confidence in the tax system.
- Increase in the budget deficit: Tax evasion leads to lower tax collection, which increases the budget deficit. This, in turn, forces the government to borrow more to finance its expenses, leading to an increase in national debt.
- Inequality in the tax system: Tax evasion creates inequality in the tax system because it allows some individuals and businesses to avoid paying their fair share of taxes. This, in turn, places a greater burden on law-abiding taxpayers, leading to an unequal distribution of the tax burden.
- Adverse effect on the economy: Tax evasion can have an adverse effect on the economy by reducing investment and business confidence. This is because tax evasion creates a lack of trust in the system, which may discourage foreign investment and make it more difficult for the government to attract investment.

In conclusion, tax evasion in India has a significant negative impact on the economy and society. It is important to combat tax evasion through measures such as increased tax compliance and enforcement, simplification of tax laws, and improved transparency and accountability in the tax system.

DIFFERENCES BETWEEN TAX EVASION AND TAX PLANNING

Tax Evasion	Tax Planning
Illegal	Legal
Involves intentionally misrepresenting or concealing true income or deductions	Involves using provisions of tax laws to legitimately reduce tax liability
Lack of transparency and honesty	Transparent and disclosed in tax returns
Can result in legal action, penalties, and fines imposed by tax authorities	Has no adverse consequences
Done after tax year ends by underreporting income or overstating deductions	Done in advance, before the tax year ends

These are the key differences between tax evasion and tax planning. It is important to understand and comply with tax laws to avoid legal consequences.

PROJECT-8(TAX CONSEQUENCES OF MR.P)

Mr.p deposited Rs.1 lakh in the PPF account so as to reduce his total income from Rs.6 lakhs to Rs.5 lakhs assuming Mr.P does not opt for concessional tax regime u/s 115BAC of the income-tax act,1961.To reduce tax payable,Mr.K,a resident individual,Paid Rs.55,000 as a life insurance premium on the policy of his minor son.Assuming Mr.k does not apt for a concessional tax regime u/s 115BAC of the Income-tax act,1961.Company claiming depreciation on the motor car which is being used by the director for personal puposes.

Step:2

Determine the tax consequences:The second step is to analyse the facts of the case to dertermine the tax implications of the actions taken by Mr.P,Mr.K,and the company.This involves determining the taxable income,the tax rates applicable,and any deductions or exemptions that may be available.

Step:3

Determine the Tax consequeces:The Third and Final step is to determine the consequences of the actions taken by Mr.P,Mr.K,and the Company.This involves calculating the Tax liability for each individual and the company,and identifying and potential issues or risks that may arise from their actions.based on the analysis,recommendations can be made to minimize tax liability and comply with applicable laws and regulations.

Tax Implications:

- ❖ For Mr.p:depositing Rs.1 lakh in the Public Provident Fund(PPF) account would be eligible for deduction under section 80c of the Income-tax act,1961.This would reduce Mr.P's taxable income by Rs.1 lakh,and hence his tax liability would decrease.however,if Mr.P does not opt for the concessional tax regime under section 115BAC,he would still be taxed at the regular rates applicable to his income slab.
- ❖ For Mr.k:paying Rs.55,000 as life insurance premium for his minor son's policy would also be eligible for deduction under section 80c of the Income-tax act.This deduction would reduce Mr.K's taxable income by Rs.55,000,thereby reducing his tax liability.however,similar to Mr.P,if Mr.k does not opt for the concessional tax regime under section 115BAC,he would still be taxed at the regular rates applicable to his slab.
- ❖ For the company claiming depreciation on a motor car used by a director for personal purposes:According to the Income-tax act,if a company allows the use of a motor car owned or leased by it to a director for his/her personal purposes,the company shall be deemed to have received the perquisite value of such use as income.hence,the company would need to calculate the perquisite value of the motor car and include it in its Income-tax return.however,the company can claim depreciation on the motor car as per the applicable rates under the Income-tax act,there by reducing its taxable income.

Here are some tax implications for each individual and the company.

- ❖ Mr.P: Assuming Mr.P does not opt for the concessional tax regime under section 115BAC of the Income-tax act, how would he be taxed at the regular rate applicable to his income slab. By depositing Rs.1 lakh in the PPF account, his taxable income would be reduced by the same amount. However, his tax liability would also depend on other factors like his investments, deductions, exemptions, hence, a detailed analysis of his income and tax liability would be required to determine his actual tax consequences.
- ❖ Mr.K: By paying Rs.55,000 as life insurance premium for his minor son's policy, Mr.K would be eligible for a deduction of the same amount under section 80C of the Income-tax act. This would reduce his taxable income and hence his tax liability. However, if he does not opt for the concessional tax regime under section 115BAC, he would still be taxed at the regular rates applicable to his income slab.
- ❖ The company claiming depreciation on a motor car used by a director for personal purpose: the company would need to calculate the value of the perquisite received from allowing the use of the motor car by the director for personal purposes. The perquisite value would be added to the company's income and taxed at the applicable rates. However, the company would also be allowed to claim depreciation on the motor car as per the rates prescribed under the Income-tax act, which would reduce its taxable income. The company would also need to ensure compliance with other provisions under the Income-tax act related to the use of assets for personal purposes by directors.

Step:3

To minimize tax liability and comply with applicable laws and regulations could include,

- ❖ Mr.P could consider other tax-saving investments and deductions like health insurance premium,donation to charitable institutions,and interest on home loan,among others,to reduce his overall tax liability.
- ❖ Mr.k could explore other investment instruments like Equity-Linked Savings Scheme(ELSS) or National Pension Scheme(NPS) which offer additional deductions under section 80c of the Income-tax act,to optimize his tax savings.
- ❖ The company could consider formulating a policy for the use of vehicles owned or leased by it by directors for personal purposes,to ensure compliance with applicable provisions and avoid potential tax risks.the policy could include guidelines for valuations of perquisites,approvals,and reporting requirements.additionally,the company could for its director that may have more favourable tax consequences.

PROJECT 1 :- INCOME TAX AND TAXIBILITY OF MR.X

QUESTION:-

Mr. X is doing business and earns some income, you are advised to assess his income and Taxability of the same according to the income Tax Act 1961

- ☆. Claim the expenses in Relation to his business
- ☆. Validate the declared sales revenue shown in ITR with the GST Returns
- ☆. Calculate the Depreciation for assets from the date of acquisition
- ☆. Validate the cash transaction within the limit
- ☆. Adjust the previous year's losses while filling
- ☆. File the expenditure for specified business and speculative Transactions

SOLUTION:-

- ❖ Claim the expenses in relation to his business:
 - Mr. X should maintain proper books of accounts and records to claim expenses related to his business. These expenses can include rent, salaries, interest paid on loans, depreciation of assets, etc. It is important to note that only expenses that are directly related to the business can be claimed as deductions.
- ❖ Validate the declared sales revenue shown in ITR with the GST Returns:
 - Mr. X should reconcile the sales revenue declared in his Income Tax Return (ITR) with the sales reported in his Goods and Services Tax (GST) returns. Any discrepancies should be corrected before filing the ITR.
- ❖ Calculate the depreciation for assets from the date of acquisition:
 - Mr. X should calculate the depreciation on assets used in his business as per the rates prescribed under the Income Tax Act. The depreciation should be calculated from the date of acquisition of deductions
- ❖ Validate the cash transaction within the limit:

- Mr. X should ensure that all cash transactions are within the prescribed limit. Any cash transactions exceeding the prescribed limit will not be eligible for deduction.
- ❖ Adjust the previous year's losses while filing:
- If Mr. X had incurred losses in the previous year, he can carry forward those losses and set them off against the income earned in the current year. However, he should ensure that he follows the rules and regulations for carrying forward and setting off losses.
- ❖ File the expenditure for specified business and speculative transactions:
- Mr. X should file his expenditure for specified business and speculative transactions separately. This will help him claim deductions on the expenses related to these transaction.

- Mr. X should check the eligibility criteria for various deductions available under the Income Tax Act, such as Section 80C for investments in certain financial instruments, Section 80D for health insurance premiums, and Section 80G for donations to specified institutions.

❖ Pay advance tax:

- If Mr. X's tax liability exceeds Rs. 10,000 for the financial year, he should pay advance tax in installments during the year. Failure to pay advance tax can result in interest and penalties.

❖ Comply with tax filing deadlines:

- Mr. X should ensure that he files his ITR within the prescribed deadlines to avoid penalties and interest. The due date for filing ITR for individuals is usually July 31 of the assessment year (e.g., July 31, 2023, for the assessment year 2023-24).

❖ Maintain proper documentation:

- Mr. X should maintain proper documentation for all transactions related to his business, such as invoices, receipts, bank statements, and bills. This will help him in case of any audit or scrutiny by the tax authorities.

❖ Get professional help if required:

- If Mr. X is not familiar with the tax laws and regulations or finds it challenging to assess his income and taxability, he should consider getting professional help from a chartered accountant or tax consultant.

Supplies made to UIN holders

- ❖ Understand the tax slabs and rates:

- Mr. X should understand the tax slabs and rates applicable to his income. The income tax rates vary based on the income level and the taxpayer's age. It is essential to calculate the tax liability correctly to avoid underpayment or overpayment of taxes.
- ❖ File revised returns if required:
 - If Mr. X discovers any errors or omissions in his original ITR, he can file a revised return within the prescribed deadline. However, he should ensure that the revised return is filed before the end of the assessment year to avoid penalties and interest.
- ❖ Be aware of penalties for non-compliance:
 - Non-compliance with various provisions of the Income Tax Act can attract penalties and interest. Mr. X should be aware of the penalties and ensure that he complies with all the provisions to avoid penalties.
- ❖ Maintain separate books of accounts for different businesses:
 - If Mr. X runs more than one business, he should maintain separate books of accounts for each business. This will help him to claim deductions and calculate taxes accurately.
- ❖ Claim the correct TDS credit:
 - If Mr. X has any TDS (Tax Deducted at Source) deducted on his income, he should claim the correct TDS credit in his ITR. Failing to claim the TDS credit can result in underpayment of taxes.
- ❖ Be aware of the tax implications of investments:
 - Mr. X should be aware of the tax implications of various investments, such as equity shares, mutual funds, and fixed deposits. The tax treatment varies based on the type of investment and the holding period.
